

OHLALA CORPUS CHRISTI BY ALEKandSTEPH

This week we have been lucky to be able to photograph Jesus aka Brandon (left) and Juda aka Steve (right) ... can you believe that !? And both of them are really hot ;-)

Corpus Christi is a passion play by Terrence McNally dramatizing the story of Jesus and the Apostles. Some consider it to be controversial due to its depiction of Jesus and the Apostles as gay men living in 1950s Corpus Christi, Texas. It contrasts modern devices like television with anachronisms like Roman occupation. In this version, Judas betrays Jesus because of sexual jealousy.

After going all over California last year and to Edinburgh for a month, they have been asked to go to Dublin this year (where the show will play for the first time ever in Ireland) and they have been asked to do a run in NY later in the year, and are now being followed by a documentary crew for a theatrical release.
